DEDICATION

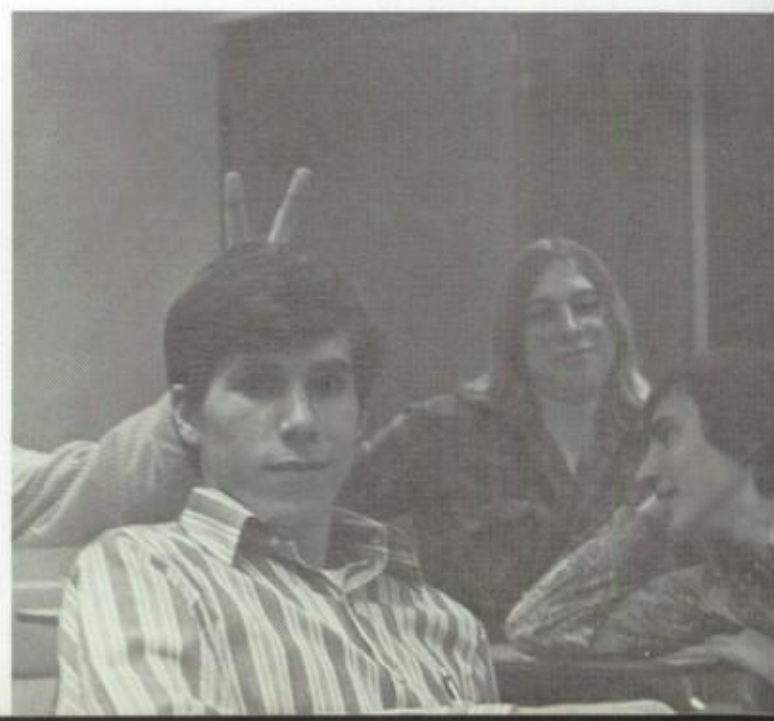

In view of the many services and faithful dedication, both to the school and the education of youth, we dedicate this, the 1973 Walum Olum, to MR. CLARENCE A. ROTH.

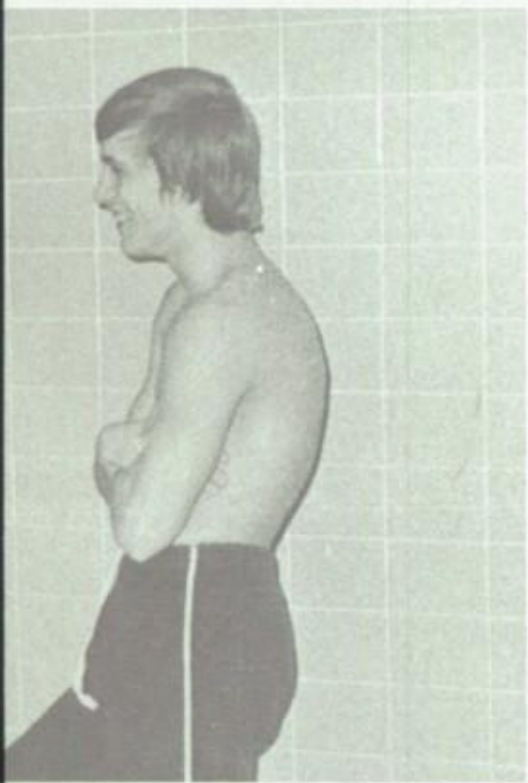

Teaching is an art which requires time, patience and understanding. Throughout its history teaching has proven itself a challenge in that a teacher must not only devote himself to the classroom activities but also maintain contact with the everyday world. By so doing a steady pace is upheld with time and its ever changing attitudes and concepts. In this way the instructor is better able to bring a more vivid portrayal of life to his students. With this intent, Mr. Roth, put forth his best efforts in achieving these teaching principles. During his employment at Upper Perk he has taught Physical Education, Health, Social Studies involving both History and Civics, Math, Aeronautics and German for seventeen years.

As a coach in all boys' sports and intramurals he endeavored to inscribe in his boys the desire to win. Along with this he strove to instill a conception of a good sportsman-like attitude in and outside of sports.

With encouragement from both his colleagues and the administration in 1953 he became Assistant Principal and the following year Principal. While holding these offices, Mr. Roth, has tried to determine methods and subject matter to improve interest in all students. With the closing of school in 1973 Upper Perkiomen loses a fine man but, his memory and the good things he has done shall always remain. From the Senior Class of 1973, we say; "Thank you, Mr. Roth".

SENIORS

CLASS HISTORY

As freshmen we found ourselves graduated from the high rung position of leadership in the middle school to the bottom step on the ladder of education in the high school. It was during this year of 1969-70 that we chose Kevin Fox (president), Jane Eschbach (vice-president), Donna Beard (secretary), and Terry Cassel (treasurer) to represent our class in Student Council. Navy blue and maroon were chosen to be our class colors and "a journey of a thousand miles begins with a first step" were the wise words of wisdom which were to remain with us throughout our final years at Upper Perk. With the spring came Lacrosse, tennis, track and the class party "Celebrate".

It was excited anticipation with which we looked forward to the following year in which we ordered and received our class jackets. It was also during this year that we ordered class rings. Because of a change in styles "T.S.P." (The Sophomore Party) presented a barelegged effect by girls in hotpants.

With great expectations we awaited the arrival of our junior year which brought with it a change in class officers. Jon Chandler (president), Jane Eschbach (vice-president), Debbie Haas (secretary), Sally Fox (treasurer). Adding to the treasury a book mobile was sponsored by Student Council. April brought the performance of our first attempt at acting — the Junior Play — "Ask Any Girl". Fountains, trees, a bridge with elves set the mood for the Jr.-Sr. Prom, "Threshold of a Dream".

As we enter the halls of U.P. for our last year we anticipate our graduation in June with eagerness and a pang of remorse. Our class officers for the 1972-73 year were Sally Fox (treasurer), Donna Beard (secretary), and Jane Eschbach (vice-president) who later assumed the responsibilities of president. It was in November that "Bull in a China Shop", the Senior Play, was presented. The winter months ushered in rain and, in February, the class trip. Mount Airy Lodge in the Poconos was the setting for a day of skating, skiing, dancing and many other activities. The Junior-Senior Prom, "Southern Comfort" closed the doors of our life at Upper Perk.

ASK ANY GIRL

Meg Wheeler (Cheryl Reigner), a young, attractive girl, leaves the comforts of a country home and the protective wings of her parents (Robert Metz, Candace Kemmerer) and two elderly aunts (Tina Thompson, Diane Schoelkopf) to seek her fortune and husband in New York City.

Things seem quite hopeless at first. A bright ray of hope shines through when Meg comes under the employment of wealthy Miles Doughton (Kevin Fox) and his brother Evan (Jon Chandler). Much to the astonishment of both her family and boardinghouse buddies (Linda Connell, Sally Fox, Debbie Haas, Joann Kavacky, Cindy Roeder, Dale Westwood) she succeeds in both her aims when her charm intoxicates both brothers. After much competition between them, Miles, the older brother, decides to "tie the knot" with Meg.

SENIOR PLAY

The Senior Class presented an excellent performance of a popular Alfred Hitchcock thriller "Bull in a China Shop" under the direction of Mrs. Anne Raymond, and with the assistance of Lee Ann Gaugler as Student Manager, and Dave Schlicher as Production Manager.

The story centers upon six elderly female boarding house residents who all happen to be infatuated by the Irish homicide detective who lives across the street. In order to attract the attention of this detective, Dennis O'Finn, these sweet, perhaps odd, old girls contrive a plan of homicide with a nice cup of tea as the murder weapon.

The ladies, however, fail to cooperate with O'Finn, and his own stubbornness gives them cause to extend their deadly game a bit further, but not before hiring a brash young girl reporter to scare him back into solving the crime.

This group of old women, a lack of clues, and a sexy reporter, who returns out to have intentions of her own, toss the detective and his faithful, but pugnacious sidekick, Kramer, into a whirlwind of hilarious desperation.

Members of the "Boarding House Babes" dance routine: Jane Eschbach, Diane Schoelkopf, Dale Westwood, Erika Mauer, and Cindy Parsons.

Those helping to stage the play were: Tim Britton, Jim Henry, Tom Moyer, Karl Lutz, and Dorothy Krazek.

J. Chandler, S. Fox, M. Lachman, J. Kavacky, B. Metz, C. Brinkman, C. Kemmerer, E. Clevensine, K. Fox, C. Reigner, L. Connell, D. Haas. Absent were: T. Cashatt, and C. Roeder.

GERMAN TRIP

On March 24, 1972, twenty-seven students of Upper Perk's German class boarded a jet for Munich. It was quite an event, because along with the Spanish class, it was the first trip to Europe ever undertaken by an U.P. classes.

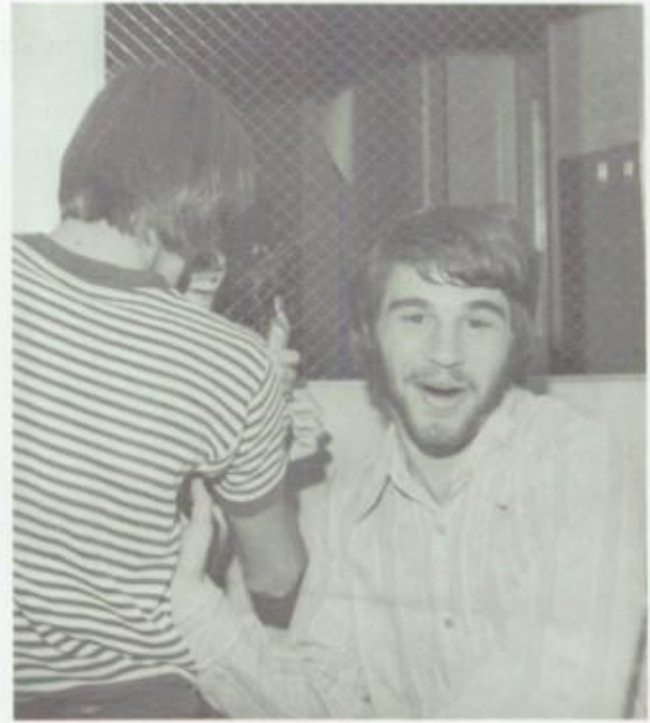

Many of us had never traveled by airplane before, and that in itself was an adventure. Once we arrived in Munich, though, we were confronted by many things to explore — the hotel, the food, the people, the monetary system, and even the Haupt Bahnhof (train station).

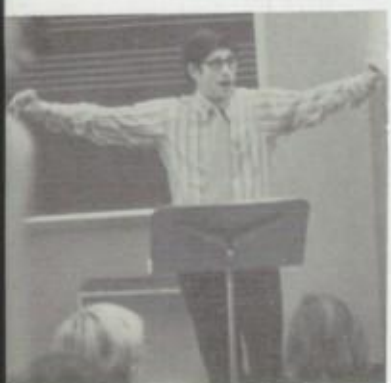

Three free days were provided in which we could do what we wanted, and the U.P. group took advantage of them. We visited the Olympic grounds, and took in a Walt Disney movie. The trips that were planned for us included an afternoon in Salzburg, Austria and Garmisch-Partenkirchen. In Oberammergau we toured the site of the Passion Play. Another tour was made not only through, but also atop the fortress walls that surround Rothenburg, a medieval town.

The itinerary also included tours of Neuschwanstein and Nymphenburg castles. We even attended an operetta, but one of the real highlights was the Hofbrau Haus.

Finally it was time to come home. No one seemed especially glad for we'd all had so much fun.

SPORTS

After two years of near-cellar football, this year's grid season provided the senior football players, and everyone else, with excitement, amazement, relief, and joy. The Indians had reached their low point early in the season, when Owen J. Roberts, the Ches-Mont dark horse, thumped the tribe in the opening game.

Despite defeat, the Indians bounced back in two weeks with a stunning 40-0 victory over Perkiomen Valley. From that point on, Upper Perk, spearheaded by the hard-nosed running of halfback Pud Moyer, and the pinpoint passing of quarterback Tod Cashatt, picked up four more victories. Included among those were the 30-8 embarrassment of North Penn in Landsdale, the unforgettable 21-0 shocker at Hatboro, and of course the memorable 21-17 Thanksgiving Day win over the Indians of Souderton. The tribe finished with a fine 5-3-1 Bux-Mont record, standing behind only undefeated C.B. West, Pennridge, and Hatboro.

This year's hockey season proved to be an exciting, as well as successful, one for the Upper Perk Squaws. Nine returning seniors and several underclassmen letter winners provided the punch needed for their 4-5-2 record. The two non-league openers, resulting in ties for the team, were followed more disappointedly by three losses. However, the girls were determined to prove themselves. With skill, desire, and hard practice, the Squaws dominated their next three competitors and won three hard fought and deserved victories. The end of the season was climaxed by the team's final victory over Quakertown.

Highlights of the hockey season have to include the games played against Central Bucks East and Perkiomen Valley; both resulting in victorious scores of 1-0. The Squaw's defense proved to be unrelenting as they held their opponents scoreless. Upper Perk's offense overwhelmed North Penn in their satisfying 4-3 win. However, it was the combination of both scorer and defender and the patient guidance of our coaches Mrs. Kathleen Utz and Miss Patricia Eck that made the team operate successfully.

CROSS COUNTRY 1972-73

Twelve dedicated athletes forged together by a fierce sense of team spirit and led by an equally dedicated coach, Ron Hendricks, is a fitting description of this years cross country team.

The Indian harriers, by achieving the school's best mark ever (7-7) overall in dual meet competition, elevated the non-spectator sport from one-time obscurity at U.P.H.S. to the level of recognition it deserved. The seasons end even the Bux-Mont League's established powers, such as North Penn and Wissahickon, were wary of the hitherto "also ran" Indians.

Sparked by seniors Karl Lutz, Dan Ziegler, Tom Zepp, Ruben Rivera, and Ted Guilian the team finished the season with 5 wins and 4 losses in Box-Mont Competition.

The team also placed 3rd in the District Meet at Valley Forge.

Lutz, who finished first in nine of the dual meets this season, represented Upper Perk In The State Championships at Penn State.

WINTER TRACK 1972-73

Alarm clocks ringing at 5 a.m. on Saturday mornings, bus trips with ice on the windows, strange looking runners with scarfs, odd looking caps and cold feet only partially describes the winter track team.

Coached by "Dastardly" Dick Werkheiser and "Running" Ron Hendricks, their runners have probably covered more of the Upper Perkiomen Valley than census takers or the visiting nurse.

Although other students called them by various odd names, the team members persevered through rain, sleet, hail, and snow.

Larry Schlupp earned recognition for the team by his outstanding performance in the Pole Vault in which he earned a 4th place medal and qualified for the "meet of Champions" in Princeton, New Jersey.

VARSDITY BASKETBALL

COACH

Neil Kemp

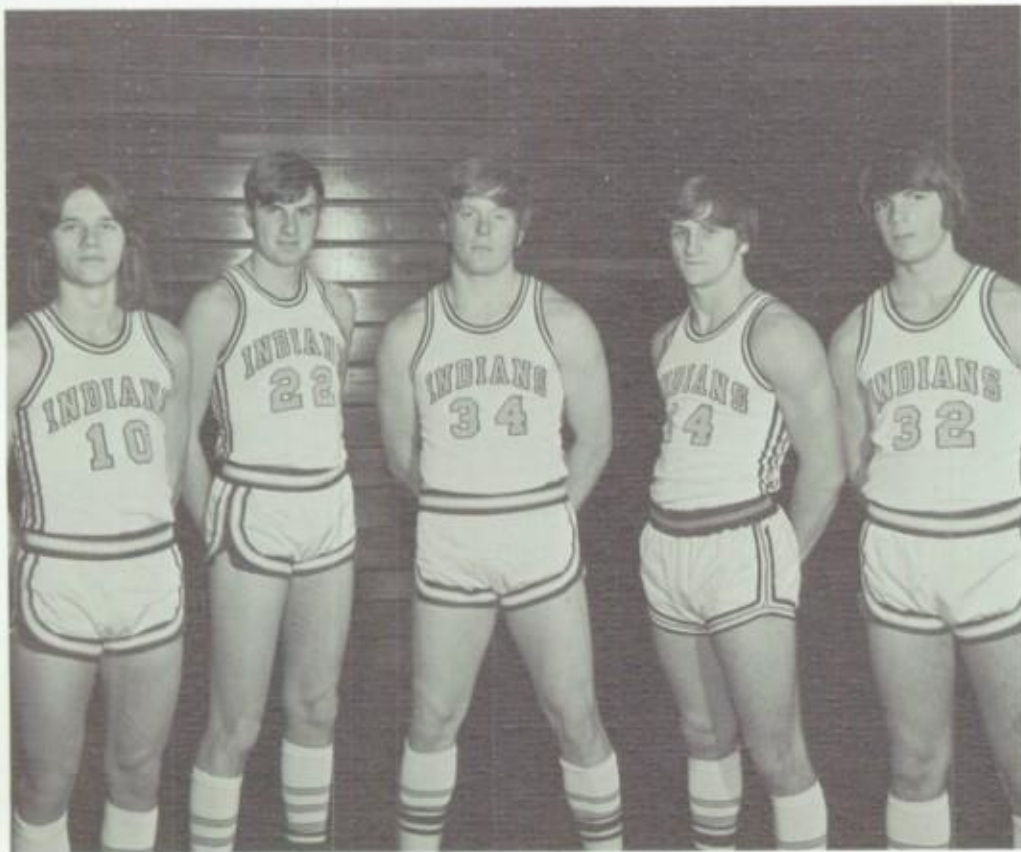

Despite an obviously unsuccessful season, first-year coach, Neil Kemp, proved that even a losing team could maintain a spirit of aggressiveness and hustle all the way to the end.

The Indians' lone victory over Quakertown marked, ironically, the end of a Bux-Mont basketball losing streak of nearly 50 games, which began three years ago during the 1969-70 season.

This season also marked the first year of the Jaycees Christmas Tournament, held on December 26 and 27, which involved playoff-type competition between U.P., Brandywine, St. Pius X (Pottstown), and tournament winner Pottsgrove.

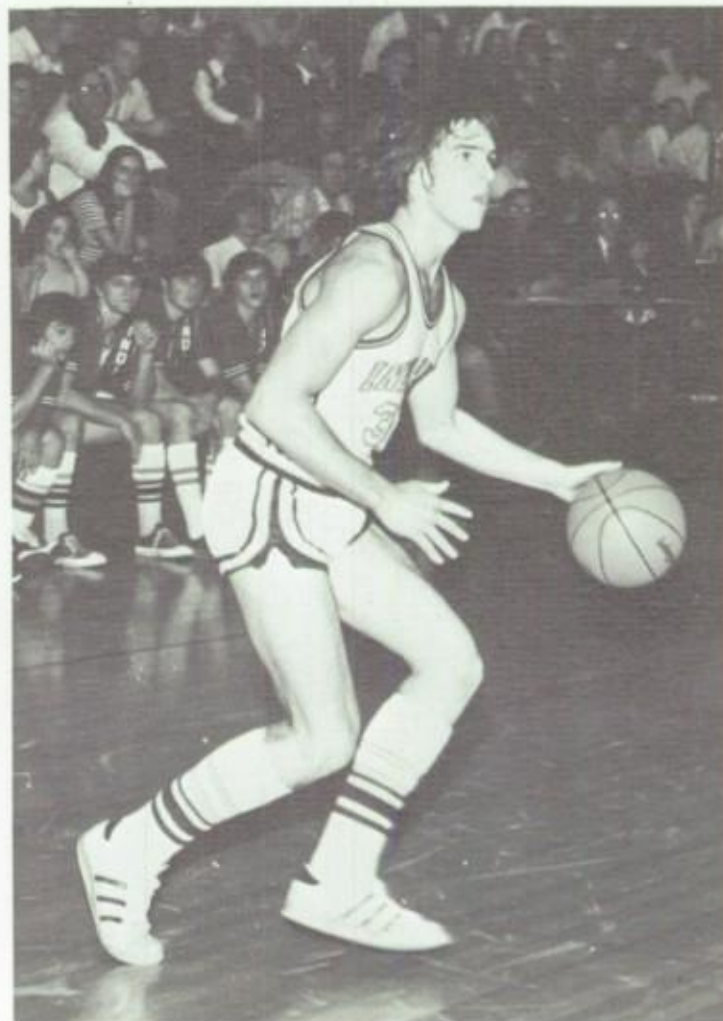

The senior ballplayers would like to extend a note of thanks to all the local patrons who showed similar enthusiasm at each home game without fail.

We wish the best of luck to the underclassmen and especially to Mr. Kemp, who, through his own attitude and congeniality, earned our highest respect and showed that the game is worth playing whether or not one is a winner. We feel certain that U.P. will have a sound basketball future under Coach Kemp.

Around 1000 A.D., the Wolf tribe of the Delaware Indians, who lived in Pennsylvania, composed a book called their "Walum Olum." Written with carved figures and inscribed on birch bark plate was their history.

From 1961 to 1973 there was another history happening. At the start of our senior year, Mr. Schlicher, the Walum Olum faculty advisor chose the editors and staff for the Walum Olum. Denni Jones was selected for the endless task of Editor-in-Chief. To assist her were seven assistant editors.

Despite an early set-back caused by the lack of a photographer, the staff managed to make their first deadline. Using the talents available we wrote, sketched, typed, and measured till we finally drew up this book. Yearbooks are designed to contain a year-full of memories compiled by those who experienced them. It is our sincere wish that this Yearbook fulfills the purpose of preserving some of the most cherished times of our lives.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year Student Council exhibited its power by producing a variety of worthwhile projects. Under the competent leadership of president Theresa Engle, many of the proposals were enacted and came to play an important role in everyday life at Upper Perk. The senior release from study halls was one such successful project. Many highlights of the year included entertainment provided for, by the Student Council, such as the new Christmas Assembly, Variety Night, and a number of enjoyable movies. Of course, the traditions of Homecoming and the Donkey Basketball Game could not have been upheld without their efforts. To raise extra funds they sold colorful placemats, conducted concerts and dances throughout the year. They continued the system of the Student Complaint Box which gave everyone a chance to make his voice heard. Together with students, teachers, and administration, this year's Student Council has been one of the most successful ever.

WESTERN MONTGOMERY COUNTY VOCATIONAL-TECHNICAL SCHOOL

Since its beginning in 1967, the Western Montgomery County Vocational-Technical School has proven itself an asset in training students for today's technical society. It is an extension of the Pottsgrove and Upper Perk school districts. The Vo-Tech school enables its students to prepare for a good job immediately after graduation. Among the many courses offered are Design Technology, which covers function and design in a number of areas, Audio-Visual Communications, which provides training in photography, motion picture production, and closed-circuit television, and Data Processing, which includes instruction in the preparation of information and computer programming. The subjects covered in the agricultural course range from raising cattle to farm maintenance. An organized national club, the FFA, is composed of agricultural and horticulture students. They have planned field trips, attendance at national conventions and student participation in contests. Other courses are electrical Construction, Building Trades, Cosmetology, Distributive Education, and Machine Shop.

The indication of a need for trained young men and women in today's highly mechanized and technological world have made the Vocational-Technical School an almost invaluable source of education.

THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1973

The Class of 1973 has been a major factor in the many outstanding achievements of our high school in athletics, dramatics, music, academics, and vocational fields. In behalf of the Board of School Directors, staff and community, thank you. We wish for you all happiness and success in your life careers. We hope that you will remember your Alma Mater and come back home to visit us at Upper Perkiomen High School.

DONALD C. THOMPSON, D.Ed.,

MR. CLARENCE A. ROTH, MR. HOWARD J. MOYER

To the Class of 1973

At graduation the curtain falls and the final chapter of your twelve years of formal education comes to a close. Hopefully, the future will be just the beginning of a new and exciting chapter in your life's story.

Your happiness and success in your life after graduation will depend upon the manner in which you prepared yourself for it while you were still a student. During your days with us at Upper Perk, you were exposed to many situations, problems, courses and people as part of your educational experiences. That knowledge which you have acquired will begin to assume a new dimension as you apply your learning to daily life.

Throughout your schooling, you were guided by your parents, minister, friends, teachers and administrators. Upon graduation, you become your own guide in the unknown future. We trust that we have helped to prepare you well for this new period of your life.

As you approach each tomorrow, attempt to do so in a positive manner. You will find that positive thinking results in unlimited rewards. In order to start you on your way with this endeavor, I suggest that you take only the pleasant memories of your high school days with you upon graduation and discard the unpleasant experiences, because they will neither be needed nor missed.

Best wishes to each of you. May your future be filled with good health, happiness, and success.

Mr. & Mrs. Renninger.

The Yearbook Staff wishes to thank all those who helped make the '73 Walum Olum a successful and well-compiled diary of our class from its high school days. Our most gracious thanks are extended to our advisor, Mr. Schlicher, who donated much of his precious time to help us along the thorny path of preparing our yearbook, to student photographers Aaron Kistler and Bruce Beard, who produced many pictures when the deadline was approaching and our pages were not filled, to co-photography editors Erika Mauer and Dale Westwood, who spent much class time arranging pictures to be taken and helping the photographers, and last but not least to our professional photographer, Mr. Renninger, from Boyertown, who altered his schedule frequently in order to serve our high school, which he did with the utmost of perfection — once again, a million thanks! Editors Note: We would like to thank Mr. Charles Steitz of the "Town and Country" for his cooperation in supplying additional pictures for our yearbook and also Mr. William J. O'Brien, the yearbook representative, for his patience and much needed help in preparing our "73" Walum Olum.
